

Your Local Electrical Wholesaler, Lighting, Smart Home & Renewables Specialists Who Are We?

We are an independent family-owned electrical wholesaler with additional divisions specialising in renewables, lighting, sound and vision, covering Yorkshire, Lancashire and Cumbria.

From our head office in Skipton, the gateway to the Yorkshire Dales, our forward-thinking and commitment has seen us provide outstanding service to our customers for over 60 years.

Training Centre

Oldfield Training Centre: Building the Future

At Oldfield Group, we are committed to growth, innovation, and excellence. That is why we have dedicated a building to house our new training centre - an investment in the future of our staff, our customers and the industry.

Key highlights include:

- Training for Oldfield staff and customers
- In-depth training for electricians on the latest regulations and product launches
- CPD-certified courses tailored for professional development
- · A dedicated space for technical training

This purpose-built facility embodies our dedication to fostering expertise, staying ahead in the industry, and strengthening partnerships with our customers and suppliers.

Electrical

Not Just Your Average Electrical Wholesaler

Our core value is to provide the highest possible level of service to our customers, in every aspect of what we do.

This value, backed up with knowledge and dedication has helped forge long-term relationships with our customers, as well as creating a reputation of trust and credibility.

With a collective experience of over 500 years in the electrical wholesale industry, our staff are by far our most important asset.

Combined with our well-stocked branches and large fleet of vehicles, we are sure we can deliver all your electrical needs.
